New Business Tenant at Bremerton National Airport

The Port of Bremerton's Bremerton National Airport has had the pleasure of welcoming a new business tenant, Tres Sapos LLC, to our airfield. This company currently owns the Gig Harbor Vintage Aero Museum and has successfully signed a 50-year land lease with the Port as well as became the new owner of a 12,000 square foot hangar located next to State Highway 3. Here they will work on a secondary museum location and service jets at Bremerton National Airport. There are also plans to host secondary events within their hangars, such as fundraisers or weddings.

"We are looking forward to our newest hangar tenant at the Port of Bremerton's National Airport," states Port CEO Jim Rothlin. "We appreciate the services they plan to provide to our airport and community."

With this addition, we are looking forward to welcoming not only a community amenity but also an amenity to our visiting businesses. This company's proven success in Gig Harbor gives us confidence that it will make a positive impact on Kitsap.

"The addition of Tres Sapos to our Port of Bremerton Community is a welcome business entity that will offer a new and desirable feature to Kitsap County and the Port family of tenants," says Port Commission President Gary Anderson. "The interest from Tres Sapos to join the Port of Bremerton demonstrates the increasing desire from outside interests to become a long-term fixture in our community. We welcome Tres Sapos and wish them every success."
